The award winning, Islington Gazette is one of London's most respected and influential local newspapers. It speaks with the authority and knowledge that 152 years of publishing in the community brings.

It is published every Thursday, and as well as being available on sale at all leading retailers, 5,000 copies are distributed via branded newspaper dispensers at five Mcdonalds restaurants across Islington as well as being hand distributed in Seven Sisters and Holloway Road every week.

Along with the growing number of visitors to the community web site, the Islington Gazette is ensuring it remains a firm favourite with the people of North London.

Combined with the Journal series of newspaper which are published across Tottenham, Wood Green, Muswell Hill, Hornsey & Crouch End, these titles together with their online community audience reach 47,000 adults every week*.

This series consists of the Hornsey & Crouch End Journal, The Tottenham & Wood Green Journal and the Muswell Hill Journal.

All newspapers are on sale every week at leading retailers, however the biggest growth for these titles is the online community that they serve.

To compliment the strong and loyal following of readers every week, these titles have seen the online community grow to in excess of 7,000 unique visitors every week.

This is a testament to the quality reporting of all local issues that these titles represent, but also the strong links with premiership football clubs such as Tottenham Hotspur, which grace the pages of their web site.

A new addition to the methods of distribution on these titles, saw 5,000copies of the Tottenham & Wood Green Journal commence being hand distributed at Wood Green Tube Station, Wood Green High Road and Lordship Lane. This new method of distribution is aimed at targeting the commuter on their return journey from work and heightening awareness to your advertising.
